Rumored That Next Year J. J. Hott Will Enter Fight

HAS A CLEAN RECORD

Term as Burgess of Charleroi Characterized by Careful Conduct of Affairs

When the primaries of next year roll around it is more than likely that the name of a Charleroi man will appear on the ballot as a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff. If rumor is correct J. J. Hott, who is one of the Republican leaders of the county will enter the race. Mr. Hott when asked concerning his intentions, declined to make any definite statement, but did not deny that he would be a candidate.

At the time of the last sheriff election Mr. Hott was a rumored candidate, but finally declined to enter the race. R. G. Lutton was nominated by the Republicans and elected.

Mr. Hott is a man who will make a strong candidate. His personal popularity and clean record have made him friends in all parts of the county. He served as Burgess of Charleroi during one term and his rule was characterized by the best of municipal conduct. He managed affairs conservatively and fulfilled to the letter his obligations, so that he left office bearing the honor of having been one of the best burgesses Charleroi ever had.

County politics at present are quiet, and there will be little awakening of affairs until fall. Overshadowing everything else at the November election, however, will be the election of a United States senator and state officers.

CENTERVILLE BOYS

Lewis Cleaver, aged 15 years is in a serious condition at the home of his father, John Cleaver of Centerville borough. Wednesday afternoon he ran into a wire clothesline, which struck him in the mouth and as a result his tongue was almost severed about one and a half inches from the point. Only a small portion of the tongue remained and the operation of sewing it back was a delicate one. He is unable to speak or eat.

DIFFICULTIES FACED IN WORK ON COUNTY ROAD

County Commissioners Have Odd Obstacles to Contend With From Slip

LOCATED ALONG RIVER

The county commissioners are confronted with a serious situation in the improvement of the road running out of Fredericktown to Turkey Foot in Deemston borough. There has occurred on this road just near Fredericktown, one of the worst slips that has ever been experienced in road construction in this county.

Yesterday the county commissioners visited the scene of the slip and they are in a quandry as to what will be best to do. It may be that the location of the proposed improved road will have to be changed and the improvement made along a road running up what is called Fishpot hollow out of Fredericktown. There would be great difficulties in making such a change. The road on which the slip has occurred could not be closed, as it reaches properties the Fishpot road does not reach.

There is something remarkable about the present slip. There has been a country road along this route for years and it is not known that ever such a slip occurred before. No paving has yet been done over the part of the highway that has given away. The grading had been completed. The road is being bricked, and the work has been completed to within a short distance of the trouble point. Hastings & Piper of Charleroi are the contractors.

At the point where the hill has gone down the road runs around the shoulder of a very high hill. It is many feet to the bottom and the slip seems to extend to the bottom. It starts right at the edge of the road. The road has dropped straight down for about 11

TOWN HAS WORMS; MUST SCALD THEM

Pests Make Advance on Charleroi and Offer Insults--Pittsburg Planning to Combat the Same Kind of Trouble

Army worms, caterpillars, thousand legs or what ever they are have put in their appearance in large numbers on Fallowfield avenue near Eighth street. They have appeared in large numbers and vary in length from half an inch to two inches and probably longer. It is said that they were seen in this section in large quantities about 40 years ago.

These worms are black or very dark brown. They are injurious to vegetation, because of the fact that they will strip the leaves from trees, and all large plants, while at smaller plants they will gather in piles around the stem and suck the life from the stalk. These worms will gather in one place and pile up until they are a foot deep, and a bushel or more of worms will be in one wriggling mass.

These worms or similar worms have made their appearance in East End, Pittsburg. Housewives were scalding, salting and putting oil on them. Dr. W. J. Holland, director of the Carnegie Museum, to whom the matter was referred, refused to venture an opinion as to why they are so plentiful. He asked for samples and told the housewives to scald them. He said to sweep them up and put them into hot water.

The army worm was so called because of the fact that they appeared in such large numbers and let nothing behind them. They will destroy vegetation almost as quickly as the grasshopper. Aside from the fact they are injurious to plant life, these piles that form have an offensive odor.

One of the best ways it is said to influence them to leave is to remove all old wood, piles of old lumber, board walks and place acid, oil or something like that in their haunts. Scalding is good.

ONE LIFE SAVED AT BATHING BEACH

Boy Wanders Beyond Depth and Becomes Frightened, Then is Quickly Brought to Shore by Volunteer Lifeguard

The value of a bathing beach to Charleroi was proven this morning when a boy was saved from probable drowning. Ralph Williamson served in the role of rescuer, pulling A. Murray, aged 10, from the water.

Young Murray together with another lad were bathing at the bathing beach, when they got into deep water. The one lad evidently could swim, but Murray became frightened, it seemed, and seized hold frantically of the other lad, who was forced to beat him off.

Williamson was on shore when he heard the boy's cries and sounds of the struggle going on. Without removing his clothing he plunged in and within a brief time had young Murray on shore, more scared than hurt.

MONESSEN MAY HAVE JEFFRIES AS POSTMASTER

Mr. Jeffries, who has had considerable business experience in Monessen and Donora, and who is proud of the honor of being one of the pioneers of Monessen, was selected from a variety of candidates by the powers that be. It is anticipated that his confirmation will come soon. The Monessen postoffice pays a $2,700 salary.

REV. JOSHUA SUCCESSFUL IN NEW PASTORATE

Rev. Clifford Joshua, former pastor of the First Baptist church of Charleroi, who is now pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church at New Castle is having a successful ministry according to the following taken from the New Castle Herald:

"The growth of the Emmanuel Baptist church since the installation of its new pastor, Rev. Clifford Joshua, has been nothing short of remarkable and the members of the church are in high spirits over the rapid addition to the membership of the church. Rev. Joshua arrived in this city and took charge of the Emmanuel Baptist church on June 7. He was formerly preaching in Nesquehoning, Pa.

"Since Rev. Joshua has taken charge of the church the Sunday school has more than doubled. The congregations have been larger than ever before in the history of the church and there have been a number of new members who have entered the church. The attendance at the Sunday school Sunday, July 12, was the largest on

CHAUTAUQUA TENT TO BE ERECTED SATURDAY

Monessen to Issue Bonds

Arrangements Being Made
For Special Election on $125,000 Proposal

White Charleroi is considering a bond issue of $75,000 for public improvements. Monessen is making arrangements on a special election of an issue of $125,000. An ordinance proposing a bond issue in that sum has passed two readings in Monessen, and from the sentiment being shown, it will pass the third reading and be placed in the hands of Burgess A. G. Dunlap within a short time.

It is planned to devote $45,000 for the redemption of the floating debt of the borough, $60,000 for the purchase of a site and erection of a new municipal building and $20,000 for street improvements.

REASONS.

Property values are boosted by paved streets. This inevitably follows improvement. Paving is economy to town, and the question that always as to be carefully considered—for paving work is costly—is that of finance. Paving work costs in round numbers for a town like Charleroi something like $6.50 or $7.00 per lineal foot. One citizen in discussing the bond issue proposal of $75,000 presents the following:

"Paved streets are an aid to cleanliness, which means the good health of a town. Unpaved streets impose indirect taxation upon those living upon them as well as upon the entire town due to their inaccessibility during certain seasons of the year and the consequent lessening of the load which can be hauled upon them.

"Doubtless, we all agree to the necessity for paved streets and the fact that Charleroi has not advanced as rapidly along this line as our neighboring towns or as it should have done.

"There are two methods of providing paving funds. One is by direct taxation and the other by indirect taxation on a bond issue. A bond issue of $75,000 according to the estimates will finance the borough's share of the proposed improvements. A direct tax for the amount on our valuation of approximately 3 1-2 mills would amount to 21 1-2 mills or $21.50 on each $1,000 of valuation. As that is pretty too much, it is out of question.

"A bond issue of $75,000 distributed over 30 years means for the principal $2,500 per year. Bearing interest at 4 1-2 per cent, the average would be $1,687.50, a total of $4,187.50, or out one and one-sixth mills—equal $1.16 2-3 on each $1,000 valuation amount that would not be noticed.

When a town can do extensive paving at such slight cost and derive untold advantages, it is an opportunity. Conservative estimates as presented by Charleroi's condition to be good a bond issue and new paving, seize its opportunity.

AGRICULTURAL RESOURCES

The matter of getting wealth out of the soil does not depend so much on the quality of the soil as the number and quality of people engaged in farming, says the Punxsutawney inquirer. The United States, compared with some of the little countries of Europe is producing only about one-ninth of what it is capable of producing.

The following from the Nebraska State Journal is very much to the point.

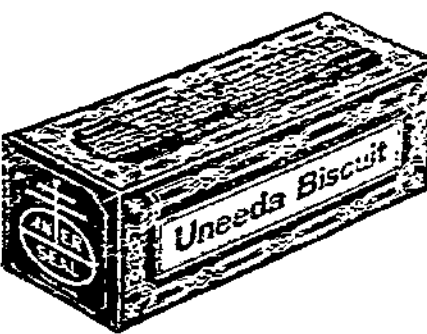

"The portentous news comes from battle that 300 bags of corn from Japan were landed there last Wednesday. This corn was of good quality and sold at the same price as corn from Nebraska.

"Japan is a string of rocky islands with a total area equal to three Nebraska. But instead of having to support the population of three Nebraska, it has the population of more than 50 Nebraskas to sustain. So these volcanic islands having produced food to keep this crowded population alive and have a little to spare, says there is to be more Japanese for us besides. The Seattle dispatch says there is to be more Japanese there.

"This is, as bad as Chinese eggs. Isn't so humiliating to have Argentina sending 9,000,000 bushels of corn the last year, for Argentina is, like ourselves, a fairly virgin soil with plenty of room to grow crops. But to

In the August Woman's Home Companion appears a friendly talk to girls who love beauty. The author explains as follows, why as a girl she wanted to be beautiful and the reason that is generally at the bottom of a desire for beauty:

"I wanted the power which, already without reasoning about it, I knew beauty to possess.

"And that is, I am sure, at the bottom of every girl's wish for beauty, though she herself may not know it. And all this claptrap talk about vanity is very claptrap indeed beside this real reason. We want beauty because it is a power, and—let all the mothers and older people shake their heads at me if they like—it is right and normal and healthy for a girl to want power and I would not give a snap of my finger for the girl who did not want it.

"We all have, as Stevenson says, a great thirst for consideration."

Some people think a harbor line is a rope. But it really is only an imaginary line stretched by the last corps of United States engineers that visited the particular section where there now is a dispute in progress.

Put broken English and stuttering together and what would you call the combination.

KILLED PEEPING FOR LAST TRIP FROM THE MINE

Just as he was loading a car to make his last trip out of the mine for the day, Mike Siner, aged 21 years, single of Manown, was killed Thursday evening in the Gallatin mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company, when caught beneath a fall of roof slate. Another workman in the same room was bruised and cut by the falling slate when partially caught but freed himself and gave other workmen warning of the fatal accident.

Coroner Jamison of Allegheny county was notified of the accident.

During the fighting at Vera Cruz he was in the thick of it of the skirmish.

WAS INJURED WHEN GETTING OFF TRAIN

As he stepped off a passenger train of the M. & W. railroad at Van Vorhis, at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, Thomas Guttery, a resident of Van Vorhis, fell between two cars and sustained several wounds and bruises about his head and shoulders. He was taken to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela and physicians, after making an examination of the injuries, say that he will soon recover.

Mr. Guttery had been at Bentleyville and Ellsworth and returned on the evening train.

TOOK POSSESSION OF HOUSE

Crowning Eccentricity of Englishwoman's Life, That Was Filled With Eccentricities.

In an old book published in Paris under the title of "Le Journal d'un Voyage au Levant," there is an amusing account of the way in which Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope, the eccentric English traveler, took possession of the house at Djoun, where eventually she made her permanent home.

She was pleased with the house and its surrounding gardens, and accepted an invitation to dinner. As she sat after dinner, with the owner, a Christian merchant, he said to her that if she liked the place, he should be glad if she would stay the night. When she said that she liked it so much that she would stay there the rest of her days, he took it as a polite figure of speech; but a fortnight later, as she still prolonged her visit, he suggested that Europe might be expecting her return.

"I do not intend to return," she replied, carelessly.

"Ah, then you intend to build a palace in the neighborhood?" said he.

"No, this house suits me very well."

"But I cannot let it or sell it, my lady."

"I do not wish to hire it or buy it, but I intend to keep it," was the startling reply.

In this dilemma the merchant dispatched a messenger posthaste to Emir Beshyr, who sent word to Lady Hester that she must give up the house. Lady Hester, however, wrote to Constantinople, whence a courier came to the emir, bearing the order, "Obey the princess of Europe in everything."

So the disgusted merchant fled, leaving her ladyship in possession. There for 20 years she lived the life of a recluse, growing more and more withdrawn from the world, and more accustomed to dwell in a mental and spiritual realm of her own creation, until she died, and was buried in the garden of the house that she had usurped.

SUCCESS MUST BE EARNED

Earnest, Intelligent Effort, With Industry, Will Set One Well on the Path to the Goal.

Most men who have amounted to anything started with nothing but ability and determination—a combination which recognizes no man-made limitations.

Any kind of work is better than idleness, which is directly responsible for most of the unhappiness in this world. Idleness is a dangerous thing; it may grow into a habit that might stick to you after you get back in harness, and the man who idles on his job is only fooling himself.

Eternal, intelligent effort is the price of commercial growth, and where there is no progression there is bound to be retrogression. Business is something like aeroplaning; to stop is to drop and to drop is generally to bust.

Pin your faith to the law of compensation, but don't take any stock in the law of chance; there's no such thing. Waiting for something to turn up in the belief that things are bound to come your way eventually is throwing dice with fate. Many a good dog never got a decent bone until his teeth were gone.

Troublesome Gender.

The trouble that Latin gender gives to American boys and girls who are struggling with the rudiments of that tongue should inspire in them a sympathetic feeling for a small descendant of the race of Attila who found the gender of our English nouns and pronouns a stumbling block.

A solid little figure trudged up to the librarian in the children's room. "That little boy," he declared, indicating the rest of the room vaguely with his thumb, "he hit me."

The "liberty teacher" followed him back across the room until the accusing thumb halted near a table where sat a guilty looking child about half the size of the plaintiff.

The accuser explained: "That little boy, she hit me. That little boy is a little girl; but he has short hair, and when I point at him, she hits me." —Youth's Companion.

There are different standards of judging. John Wana maker ought to know something about it. He has attained heights in the business world where his opinion carry weight. Listen to what he says—

PALMER FAILS TO LAND POSTOFFICES

Unable to get the attention of the senate on the appointment of political friends to postoffice jobs, Representative A. ## AMONG THE THEATRES

LYRIC—CHARLEROI

Telling a peculiar story in which a human hand had an important bearing a two part sensational drama, "The Hand of Horror" featured the Lyric theatre program Wednesday of this week. It was a contemporary production with the Hearst-Selig News Pictorial, "The Opal's Curse," and "Setting the Style." In the latter the inimitable John Bunny was seen at his best. The Hearst-Selig News Pictorial was particularly interesting, giving as it did in detail pictures of happenings the country over. On Monday night there were several features. The fifth story of "The Perils of Pauline" was told in picture and was distinctly enchanting in its amazing developments. "The Lure of the Pitt" was a good Lubin drama shown in two parts. "Pie for Sophia," a western drama filled out the program.

COYLE—CHARLEROI

There were good plays in plenty at the Coyle theatre this week, with two two-reel films being presented nightly in addition to three single reel productions. On Monday two good interesting pictures were "Rebellion of Kitty Bell" and "The Mask of Affliction," the first being a Majestic and the second named being an Eclair film. "The Law Unto Himself," a Rex drama, "Billy's Ride," "Voice of the Phone," "His Dress Rehearsal," and "Outlaw's Nemesis" were photoplays of Tuesday night that were good. Among the features the remaining part of the week were "Stolen Code," a Reliance film, "Painted Lady's Child," an American in two reels, "Sophia of the Films"—series 2—Nestor film, and "The Forbidden Room." The last named photoplay

PALACE—CHARLEROI

A civil war picture in three parts and a detective drama with Francis X. Bushman in the leading role were two of the feature attractions at the Palace theatre this week. The civil war film was entitled "A Mother of Men," and was one of the new Sid Olcott features. It was a tale of heart interest detailing the woes of brother fighting brother and incidental consequences during the war of the great rebellion. The motion picture in which Francis X. Bushman was seen was "Finger Prints," a two act Essanay play. Bushman, who has gained popularity until he is one of the movie idols of the day, was at his best in the role of a great detective. For tomorrow Manager Barnhart has scheduled for presentation a Lubin film, "Long May it Wave." For Saturday he has a good picture in "The Song of Sunny Italy," a Biography film.

GRAND—PITTSBURG.

"Pierre of the Plains," the play in which the Harry Davis Stock company will perform at the Grand Opera House each afternoon and evening during the week beginning next Monday. July 20, is a dramatization by Edgar Selwyn of the best selling novel by Sir Gilbert Parker, entitled, "Pierre and His People." It has not been played here by a stock company or at popular prices and the forthcoming production is therefore an event of particular theatrical interest. In the original production the dramatist, who is an actor and manager of distinction, visualized the titular part, "Pierre of the Plains." His support included many persons whose professional fame is in a measure an indication of the importance of the parts entrusted to them and to a concrete performance note out of the stereotyped rut. The play enjoyed a long and highly successful run in the metropolis and repeated its triumph on a road tour. Its dramatic personae presents almost unlimited opportunity for characterization, and the principals of the Davis organization will be found in parts in which their talents customarily are most forcefully expressed. There are four acts. The first of these occurs in Peter Galbraith's road house at evening and the second in the same location the following morning. The third act is set in Little Elk Cache, the next night and the fourth shows the sanctuary of the plains the following day. There are vivid nature pictures, all harmonizing beautifully with the wonderful story of "Pierre and His People." Mr. Selwyn did a great service to the English-speaking stage when he put this remarkable story of Sir Gilbert Parker's into dramatic form. It was not only among the "best sellers" during its early editions, but is still being read with the same zest and avidity that it was in its earliest days.

TUBERCULOSIS

In addition to plenty of fresh air and proper diet, those suffering from or who are predisposed to Tuberculosis are recommended to use Eckman's Alternative to stop night sweats, banish fever and hasten recovery. This medicine, by reason of its successful use during the past, warrants the fullest investigation possible by every sufferer. feet. The contractor has dug into the slide for 12 or 14 feet to try to find a solid base for piles or something to brace the road but has failed.

It is a question whether or not to proceed with the road construction past the point of the slip, even though it might be fixed up. The hill might after the road was built, give way taking road and all. This would mean considerable loss. The slip is about 100 feet wide.

The road under improvement is an important highway, heading toward the improved road which runs south of the National pike from Beallsville, which road is an improved road from Bentleyville to Beallsville, across the pike and on to Turkey Foot.

It will when improved through to the Bentleyville-Beallsville road extension, give an improved road to Charleroi, and an improved road from Fredericktown to Washington. The Pike Run road is also heading towards the Beallsville-Bentleyville road, so that with a few more miles of road constructed in that part of the county, there will be a splendid system of improved highways.

record. The church had become rather run down before Rev. Joshua arrived and took charge but under his leadership it has suddenly sprung up and is growing faster than ever before.

"All phases of the church work are being pushed forward in the best manner possible and several new features have been started. One of the largest of these is the Men's Bible class recently organized. Rev. Joshua teaches this class himself and it is largely attended.

"The congregation is enthusiastic in their praise of the work of their pastor and they expect to keep on increasing in size and strength until they have one of the strongest and best organized churches of their class in the city. If they continue at their present rate it is merely a matter of months until they attain their standard."

ROSCOE TAKES GAME FROM BELLE VERNON

Roscoe defeated Belle Vernon in a hitting match at Roscoe Thursday evening, in the Monongahela valley league. Both teams seemed able to frequently connect with the ball and the game was featured by a total of 26 hits and 16 runs. The game wasn't free from errors either there being a total of 7 errors chalked up against them. The score:
